LAVALLA200> INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITIES FOR A NEW BEGINNING

MARISTS SENT IN MISSION BY THE SUPERIOR GENERAL

On June 28, at ND de l’Hermitage Br Emili Turú, Superior General, sent on mission a group of lay and brothers Marists who participated in the formation session for the Lavalla200> programme, to prepare themselves to live in one of the new international communities: Amazônia, Brazil (America Sur); East Harlem, United States (Arco Norte); Sicily, Italy (Europe); Mount Druitt, Sydney - Australia (Oceania) or in one of the communities of the Marist District of Asia.

This marked the end of a two-month period of intense formation, which, of course, included the discernment on the place where each one of the participants would be sent.

At the end of June, each of the participants wrote to Brother Emili a personal letter in which they communicated their availability as well as indicating any preference they might have had.

On the last day of June, the 'Tutti Fratelli' group with members from various congregations of brothers, gathered at the General House of the Brothers of Christian Instructions to promote our common identity as religious brothers in the Church.

In the past months, this group has produced an extensive range of resources for all communities of brothers and associates to deepen the reflection on the Vatican document, "Identity and Mission of the Religious brother in the Church".

These resources, in five languages, are now available on the dedicated Tutti Fratelli web page: <https://sites.google.com/site/romatuttifratelli/website-builder>.

To accompany the launch of these resources, there are Marist versions of the Tutti Fratelli posters on the Brothers Today resource page: <http://www.champagnat.org/000.php?p=392>.

PAKISTAN: CONFERENCE AT MARIST SCHOOL OF SARGODHA

NEWNESS IN "GATHERED AROUND THE SAME TABLE"

A talk titled 'Newness in "Gathered around the Same Table"' took place at the Marist School of Sargodha, Pakistan, from June 21 – 22. Brother Teófilo Minga, of the Compostela Province, dedicated a talk to Superior General Brother Emili Turú's letter, "Fourvière – the Revolution of Tenderness."

Five Marist Brothers, 35 teachers of the school and Lay Marists attended the seminar. "It was worth the initiative to be able to listen to each other and to learn new things about the relationship between Brothers and lay," affirmed Brother Paul Bhatti in a statement dated June 23 to the general house press office.

Brother Rohail Niamat underscored that the seminar "came in good time, when the question of the relationship between brothers and lay Marist people is becoming a crucial one in the Marist world."

He called on participants to pay attention to cultural matters when thinking of lay Marist communities or mixed communities in the future. But some more informal activities were also considered, such as collaboration in youth ministry programmes in various localities in Sargodha and youth sports clubs, irrespective of religion.

Along with these ideas Anil, who has participated in the II MIMA in Nairobi, and Anum Maria presented a report of their groups underlining the need of more sessions like the one offered now to the teachers: they could be a way to have in the future Marist people from Pakistan participating in international communities. Anum Maria approached the facilitator to elaborate more in some points raised during the exchanging of ideas. He chose two head titles of the letter: 1) God is community; 2) Fourvière, a Dream and a Promise. God is community, but very often not much attention is paid to this reality and therefore do not act as "communion people". The facilitator remembered an impacting experience he had in the 7th Assembly of the World Council of Churches.

The young theologian from the Presbyterian Church of Korea opened the Assembly with a beautiful dance accompanied with a song and a narrative text. At one moment she said: "In the beginning God was relationship..." and she was applauded by the whole assembly. To be Christian is to live and to give life through communion, creating a network of living relationships.

Br. Emili reminds Marists of this important principle in Christian life and quoting Pope Francis he speaks of a "web of relationships."

The second point is the recall of Fourvière, a dream and a promise.

This point is developed later in the biggest paragraph of the letter, "Marist Community, a Charismatic Family".

PUT AN END TO VIOLENCE AGAINST CHILDREN

FMSI CONO SUR

The Governments of the world think that it is possible to put an end to the violence against children in the whole world.

For this a Global Alliance to put an End to Violence Against Children has been created with the objective of supporting the actions of all those who seek to prevent violence against children, to protect the children and to help societies to be more safe for children.

This Global Alliance is developing a plan that will help to impulse the so urgently necessary change so that all – including communities, children and Government leaders – may work together to put an end to violence against children. During the month of March 2016, FMSI Cono Sur, as member of this Alliance, made a consultation in which 826 Marist children and adolescents (between 10 and 17 years of age) participated from Argentina, Chile, Brazil, Colombia, Mexico and the United States.

The objective of this work was to know the opinion of children in relation to the violence that affects them, as well as the necessary actions which can put an end to it, whether in their community, in their country and at world level.

The present material represents a synthesis of the voices and their coincidences, for the purpose that a tool of critical reflection can be created, and a fundamental contribution at the time of thinking about educational strategies, of accompaniment or of political effect.

Listening to them “the boys” and “the girls”, placing them in the “center” of our mission, is a form of being faithful to the legacy of Marcelin Champagnat, on which FMSI is inspired.
